INFO.

- Major Protasca, a member of the Coviet military railroad headquarters in Budapest, located at the East Station, arrived at Baden early in the norming on 20 December 1950 aboard a Hungarian Diesel train, to report to Soviet headquartors concerning the delivery of munitions shipments from the USSR to Fáka (A80), Hungary. He was also cormissioned to collect 127,000 forint to pay the Soviet employees of his railroad unit. He returned to Páka the same afternoon.
- The shipments in question had been unloaded under the supervision of Protassa and Major Voronin. They consisted of four trains which arrived at Paka on 14 December with a total of 146 carloads of amunition and 17 open gondolas contraining bombs; and six trains arriving 15-19 December with 251 carloads of munitions.
- Then Protassa left on 19 December to make his report, Voronin remained at Paka to supervise the unloading of another train which was scheduled to arrive on that day.
